

Nevada's "Smart Snack" Approved Product List 2014

This is a list of products that meet the criteria for the Smart Snack Nutrition Standards. These are NOT the only products that are approved, other products may also fit the Smart Snack Standards. If you find a product that meets the Smart Snack Nutrition Standards and would like it to be added to this list please send us an email at the address below. This list will be updated every 6 months. A Smart Snack Calculator is available for use online. Each district and/or school may have additional restrictions please keep this in mind when purchasing products.

For questions concerning approved products, email: FND@agri.nv.gov.

Reading the Approved Product List:

Product/UPC Codes: For the school's convenience, the product codes are included in the product list. Codes are either UPC codes (the longer codes), which can be pulled up online through "google" for ordering. The shorter codes (i.e. 3-5 digits) are company codes, which can be found/ordered directly through the company's website. The majority of codes correspond to ordering the products in bulk.

Beverages: Caffeine is only allowed in the high school level at the school's discretion.

◦ This symbol represents caffeine-containing. Carbonation is NOT allowed in any Nevada school.

Please note: Sizes of the containers vary between schools.

For Elementary School Level: 8 ounces or less

For Middle School Level: 12 ounces or less

For High School Level: 12 ounces or less for milk and juice, up to 20 ounces for low calorie drinks such as tea or flavored waters.

Cereal: Please note that the cereal alone (in the specified amounts) is approved as well as remain approved with the addition of ½ Cup of skim milk.

Combination Foods: Domino's Pizza has a Smart Snack approved pizza called Smart Slice. There are two Smart Slice products, you will need to specify that Smart Snack pizza. Each school/district will need to contact their local franchise in the beginning of each school year to give them sufficient time to order the necessary ingredients for the approved pizza.

Contact Dominos: phone-1-800-810-6633 or email- schoollunch@dominos.com.

Other companies may be working on Smart Snack approved products. Check with local companies if your school/district is interested in purchasing additional snacks or combination foods.
